'MICROWAVE COOKING' WORKSHOP
SET DURING UM SUMMER PRESESSION

MISSOULA--

The Department of Home Economics at the University of Montana in Missoula will sponsor a UM Summer Presession workshop entitled "Microwave Cooking" Monday through Friday, June 16-20, at UM.

Participants may obtain three undergraduate credits at a cost of $63 by participating in the workshop from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in room 220 of the UM Women's Center.

Marlene J. Bachmann, Lincoln, Neb., who teaches at the University of Nebraska, will be the visiting professor, and two experts in microwave cooking also will be participating. Making her second visit to UM will be Linda Johnson, Long Beach, Calif., a home economist for Litton Industries. Alice Doherty, Burlingame, Calif., director of the western region of the General Electric and Hotpoint Consumers Institute, will conduct demonstrations from 8:30-11:30 a.m. Friday, June 20.

Bobby Dillard, Denver, Colo., of Region VIII, Food and Drug Administration, will discuss "Safety" at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday,

Besides safety, workshop sessions also will focus on the wise and efficient use of the microwave and the conservation of energy.

The workshop is being sponsored through the UM Center for Continuing Education and Summer Programs. Dr. Patricia Douglas is CCESP director.
